

BOOK REVIEW

by Shaykh Khalil

'Beneficial Prayers' Compiled by Shaykh Maulana Abdur Rauf Lajpuri hafizahullah (Batley, UK), Published 2013, Pages 115, English and Arabic

This pocket size booklet contains a collection of easy Duas from the Qur'an and Sunnah, as well as some prayers mentioned by pious scholars. The compilation covers essential daily Duas from morning to evening and prayers for many specific situations that a person goes through in his everyday life.

The booklet is reader-friendly with a useful contents section at the beginning. All Arabic Duas are printed in clear fonts with transliteration and simple English translation. The booklet is fully referenced based on either primary or secondary sources.

The forward to the booklet is written by the great Faqih, Maulana Sameerudeen Qasmi a distinguished scholar from Manchester, UK. who outlines nine distinguished features of the booklet as well as praising the piety of the compiler.

The Compiler, a renowned Shaykh of Tasawwuf, has also written an introduction to the booklet explaining the purpose and meaning of Dua. An eye-catching sentence from the introduction is: "Regular engagement in continuing to sincerely recite these prayers will help one move through the stages of spiritual realisation."

A beautifully bind booklet with an image of the green dome and minarets of the Holy Prophet ﷺ Mosque in Madina on its cover page makes it ever more attractive.
